

About Max

Max Coppa is Australia's most recognised and trusted expert in palmistry, numerology and dream interpretation. He has over 35 years' experience in the industry and offers a range of workshops and unique personal readings. With a strong intuitive flair and a practical and inspiring approach, Max seeks the deeper meaning behind every message to help you confront and resolve issues, and learn to reach your fullest potential.

Max was born in Melbourne to an Italian father and Scottish-Australian mother and has experienced several career transformations throughout his life. Max started out in the Army at 18, then pursued a successful football career, which led to coaching. Later, he owned his own processing business, then worked in the building industry until, finally, he found his true calling. He is as passionate about his work today as he was when he started, 35 years ago.

Max has found numerology, in particular, to be a powerful and revealing tool in his work as a palmist and dream interpreter. It breaks down the readings he offers into more detail - especially timings - and this helps with a more accurate reading. Everything in life is measured and calculated by numbers and Max maintains that it's the simplest way to understand ourselves and others. The more he uses it, the more he is fascinated by how it works and how it can work for you!

Max's extensive experience has enabled him to author several popular books on palmistry and numerology. He has become an in-demand guest for television, radio and Mind Body Spirit festivals, and a sought after columnist for leading magazines.

Max is an inspired teacher of his craft, and he conducts regular workshops on palmistry and numerology in locations throughout Australia and Asia. He is passionate about his work and is dedicated to reading and counselling people so that they can take control of their life.
