Relationship Analysis

Jane is a born leader, with a strong independent streak. However, her ability to stand apart and lead is based on an inherent need to nurture and heal those around her. She is creative and energetic; she is often channelling new ideas and her mind is very active. She likes to keep busy – sitting still is not her favourite pastime. If she has children, her role as mother is very important to her. Love, peace and harmony are also important priorities in her life.

John is an intelligent, active man. His life lesson 3 makes communication very important to him; expressing himself clearly, and being heard in return, are high priorities for him. He is naturally compassionate and caring, and has a strong connection with his mother, or with other mothers in his life. He likes balance, harmony and a peaceful home. His father's influence on him has been absent, or not very impressionable. If he is a father, he will be 'untraditional' in his role; he will parent more like a mother; nurturing, caring and gentle.

Jane and John have strong compatibility and a deep understanding of one another. They both know how to nurture and create a loving, balanced relationship. They care deeply for each other; they are attuned to the emotional needs of each other. If they have children, they will agree on many aspects on how to raise them. There is a lot of energy in this relationship, however their combined life lesson numbers equal 4, so there may be times that their relationship can become too fixed and mundane. Injecting fun and spontaneity into their love life is vital.
