

Dear Max

Can you offer any advice that will help keep me on the right path throughout my life?

Dear Kimberlee

You are strong and determined with a desire to achieve. The strength in your fingers, and their length and spacing, gives you the drive to succeed. Couple this with your square fingertips and it indicates a natural leaning towards order and system, and it shows that ambition is a given. There have been some challenges in your love life, which is shown by your relationship lines, located under your Mercury (pinky) finger. In a nutshell, your head knows what you want but your heart doesn't. This will change next year and life and love will work much better. My advice is to learn to be more adaptable.

Kimberlee replies

I am motivated and ambitious, but at the moment I don't know what direction to channel those energies into. I have had some challenging relationships and despite my best intentions I do tend to let my heart lead when I fall in love. I'm very pleased that I have what it takes to make a successful life. I just have to figure out what I want to pursue.
